Nebraska Housing Units Authorized by Permit for Construction

Source: U.S. Bureau of the Census, Current Construction Reports, 2018

The chart shows the number of housing units authorized for construction in Nebraska from 1970 to 2017. The data is separated into Single Family Units and Multi-Family Units. The chart indicates fluctuations in the number of units authorized over the years, with peaks and troughs that reflect changes in the housing market and construction trends.