The purpose of the Application Guidelines is to provide a format for Application for Enterprise Zone Designation. The Guidelines do not duplicate useful information contained in Nebraska Statute and the Rules and Regulations. Applicants are highly encouraged to review and reference Nebraska Revised Statutes sections 13-2101 to 13-2112 for definitions and requirements of Enterprise Zone Designation.
Benefits of Designation

During each calendar year in which funds are available from programs including the Housing Trust Fund (Nebraska Revised Statute Section 58-708), Job Training program (Nebraska Revised Statute Section 81-1201-21), Site and Building Development Fund (Nebraska Revised Statute Section 81-12,149), Business Innovation Act (Nebraska Revised Statute Section 81-12,156), or State contract awards (Nebraska Revised Statute Section 73-107) for use by the Department of Economic Development. The department shall consider location of the project in an Enterprise Zone when awarding funds.

In competitive selection economic development cases, if proposals are considered equal, an enterprise zone designation will be the tie breaker.

Designation Process

Application is submitted to the Department and a team of DED staff will review the application for completeness. Once the review is complete, the applicant will be given an opportunity to correct missing or incomplete items.

When the NDED Enterprise Zone Review team determines applications are complete the review team will review all applications for designation and designate up to five Enterprise Zones.

Enterprise Zone Designation Scoring Sheet is included in this application for applicant’s review.

Designation as a Nebraska Department of Economic Development (NDED) Enterprise Zone will be effective for ten years, with annual reviews. Enterprise Zones not current and consistent with requirements will result in suspension of certification and benefits associated with certification.

Detailed Enterprise Zone information is located on the Nebraska Department of Economic Development’s website:
